2-02/090.10 - Field Training Officers

Field training officers are responsible for training, supervising, guiding and evaluating Deputies newly assigned to field operations. Field training officers are teachers, mentors, leaders and role models. They must display strong ethics and the highest possible degree of personal and professional integrity. They must be positive and supportive and teach by example all requisite skills necessary to enable the Deputy being trained to successfully complete the Deputy Orientation Program as a qualified Field Deputy. Field training officers must be dedicated to the training mission and support Departmental Core Values.
