3-07/210.20 - Confidentiality

The Department cannot control the final disposition of electronic communications once they have been delivered. Authorized persons should be cautioned that any electronic message may be forwarded or printed without the sender's knowledge.