

3-06/020.00 - Photographs/Diagrams

Prosecutors often use crime scene photographs and diagrams to present evidence. Often these depict victims of violent crimes and are very graphic in nature. Bailiffs should be aware of this and use extreme caution when moving any evidence from the witness stand to the clerk. Visual evidence of this nature should not be accidentally viewed by other witnesses or the victim's family.
