POST ACADEMY INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION COURSE

OVERVIEW

The foundation of this course is to ensure compliance with POST 1082 regulations, the Academy Instructor Certificate program (AICP) and the training requirements of Academy Basic Course instructors. This course has been generalized to reflect the fact that academy and in-service instructors may attend the same training sessions for different purposes. The Academy Instructor Certification Course (AICC) is based on principles of student-centered adult learning and sound instructional systems design. The purpose of this course is to ensure that peace officers are prepared for the rigors of the policing profession.

The AICC (and those courses intended to meet equivalency criteria articulated in Academy Instructor Certificate Program and POST Regulation) is intended to equip instructors with the skills, competencies and knowledge necessary to deliver training for recruits and peace officers in a manner that emphasizes the retention and application of knowledge consistent with the goals and mission of policing. Finally, the AICC satisfies the goal of preparing Basic Course instructors with the tools necessary to instruct within the Basic Course Instructional System.

Basic Course Instructor Needs and Mandates

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

As a result of significant changes approved by the POST Commission in 2005, the Basic Course is moving its teaching methodology to that which:

- Places the responsibility for learning on the student,
- · Modifies and expands the instructor's role to that of facilitator of an adult learning environment,
- Provides students with a variety of teaching methodologies and opportunities to acquire knowledge and demonstrate competencies necessary for success in field training and beyond.

The core competencies acquired in this course, therefore, will require instructors to demonstrate their ability to lead an educational and training environment consistent with these goals.

Instructional Goals for Basic Course Instructors

A primary goal of the Academy Instructor Certificate Course (AICC) is to comply with the requirements of the minimum standards for Regular Basic Course (RBC) instructors detailed in POST Regulations 1071, 1082(d) and 1083, including:

- A. The requirement for all RBC instructors appointed on or after March 1, 2008 to complete an AICC or Academy Instructor Development Course (AIDC) no later than March 1, 2011 prior to instructing any component of a RBC.
- B. Delivering an AICC that satisfies the minimum course requirements as specified in Regulation 1082 with the following eleven mandatory components included:
- 1. Basic Course Instructional System
- 2. Roles and Responsibilities of Law Enforcement Training

Instructors

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- 3. Adult Learning Concepts
- 4. Lesson Planning
- 5. Presentation Skills
- 6. Facilitation Skills
- 7. Use of Learning Resources and Training Aids
- 8. Evaluation Techniques
- 9. Legal Issues
- 10. Safety Protocols
- 11. Written, oral and/or Demonstration Assessment (competency checklist required for AICC)

verification

A Note Regarding In-Service Instructors

Presently there is no existing mandate for in-service instructors to complete the AICC or equivalent course. POST strongly encourages those trainers to engage in a training that enhances their skills and abilities deliver content in a manner that is consistent with student-centered adult learning.

Regulation 1082 requires course content dealing with the Basic Course Instructional System and academy-specific training responsibilities. The AICC's academy-specific modules satisfy that requirement. It is not required for those intending to solely teach in-service training; however, non-academy instructor-trainees are encouraged to complete those modules in this training setting to ensure they have fulfilled the requirements of Regulation 1082 should they elect to instruct in an academy in the future.

INSTRUCTOR CORE COMPETENCIES

At the conclusion of training in the Academy Instructor Certificate Course, instructors will demonstrate the following minimum core competencies:

Knowledge of the roles and responsibilities of instructors in the Basic Academy using the Regular Basic Course Instructional System including:

- Training mandates
- Training specifications
- Methods for delivering instruction
- Facilitation of the student-centered learning environment
- Procedures for testing, testing security, evaluation and remediation

EXPANDED COURSE OUTLINE

The purpose of Academy Instructor Certification Course (AICC) is to prepare instructors to train peace officers and recruits in active, rather than passive learning environment. The AICC instructor will lead a learning process where students will not only pass tests and memorize facts, but be able to retain and apply that knowledge once beyond the confines of the classroom. As a result of the POST Commission's approval of significant changes to the Basic Course, instructors must be competent in not only the traditional lecture didactic dialogue and test preparation, but will be required to facilitate a learning environment that is student-centered and focused on the use of multiple styles of presenting concepts. POST has determined this teaching methodology is the most effective manner for all inservice certified training; therefore, the competencies of the academy instructor must also be present in any instructor for every course taught.

The AICC outline is presented in a 40-hour format. Previously, the AICC expanded course outline consisted of 24 hours of instruction, usually accompanied by 16 hours of student presentations to comply with the Academy Instructor Certificate Program (AICP) requirements. Emerging protocols* to condense formal student teaching allows the presenter to either expand instructional segments or shorten the course once all outcomes have been met. The full AICC, including a competency verification (student teaching) block, should not exceed 40 hours of total instructional time unless local requirements or preferences dictate lengthening the course.

* (Note- active learning presentations conducted by students in smaller concurrent groups may allow course presenters to use less time to complete the "teach-back" component of training)

LAWS OF ARREST

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

I. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must recognize that a temporary detention is an assertion of authority that is less than an arrest but more substantial than a consensual encounter

- A. Differentiate between a detention and a consensual encounter
 - 1. Detention
 - a. A lawful detention requires a suspicion of criminal activity. Under a detention, a person is not free to leave and is obligated to remain while the officer completes a short investigation.
 - 2. Consensual Encounter
 - a. A consensual encounter face-to-face contact with a person who is free to leave
 - b. No legal justification is needed for a consensual encounter as long as officers are in a place they have a right to be.
- B. Recognize appropriate peace officer actions during a detention
 - 1. Questioning the person about identity and conduct
 - 2. Contacting other individuals and witnesses to confirm explanations, verify identification, or to determine if the person is wanted.

- 3. Bringing the victim to the detained suspect for identification purposes
- Recognize conditions where the use of force or physical restraint is appropriate during a detention
 - 1. If a person attempts to leave during a detention, officers may use reasonable force and /or physical restraints to compel the person to remain.
 - 2. Uncooperative individuals may be handcuffed or placed into a patrol vehicle.

II. LEARNING NEED

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

Peace officers must know and comply with the statutory rules of arrest in order to properly exercise the authority and responsibility while avoiding potential liability when making arrests.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize when there is probable cause to arrest
 - 1. Direct investigation or reports
 - 2. Circumstantial evidence
 - 3. Second-hand statement from reliable sources
 - 4. Officer's training and experience
- B. Identify elements of a lawful arrest
 - 1. The arrested person is taken into custody in a case and manner authorized by law.
 - 2. An arrest may be made by actual restraint of the person or by the person's submission to the officer's authority.
 - 3. An arrest may be made by a peace officer or a private person.
- C. Differentiate between arrest and detention
 - 1. An arrest is taking a person into custody. Custody implies the person making the arrest has full control of the subject.
 - 2. A detention is an assertion of authority that would cause a reasonable person to believe he/she is not free to leave.

3. A detention is limited in scope, intensity, and duration.

III. LEARNING NEED

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

When conducting a custodial interrogation, peace officers must follow Miranda procedures to ensure t any answers obtained will be admissible in court.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Identify the purpose of the Miranda warnings
 - 1. The 5th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution states that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against themselves.
 - 2. The Miranda warning is given to a suspect so that suspects are aware that any statements they give during a custodial interrogation may be used against them.
 - 3. To inform an arrested suspect before he/she is interrogated, that he/she has the right to remain silent, that he/she is entitled to have an attorney present before questioning, and that an attorney will be appointed for them if he/she cannot afford an attorney.
- B. Recognize when Miranda warnings must be given
 - 1. When a suspect is in custody and before questioning can be started.
 - 2. When a suspect is to be subjected to interrogation/questioning after formal arrest or use of equivalent restraints (handcuffs, guns, lockup situation).
 - 3. Custody and interrogation must both exist before the Miranda warning is necessary.
- C. Identify the proper administration of Miranda warnings
 - 1. Minimally, the advisement in full must be provided to a person subjected to custodial interrogation.
 - 2. The advisement consists of the following statements:
 - a. You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say may be used against you in court. You have the right to an attorney before and during questioning. If you cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed for you free of charge, before questioning if you wish.
 - 3. Once officers read the Miranda warning and have ensured that the person understands it, the person may either waive (give up) or invoke (assert) the Miranda Rights. A person has two rights he or she can waive or invoke under Miranda: the right to remain silent and the right to have counsel present during interrogation.

D. Recognize the impact of invoking:

- 1. The right to remain silent: A person may not be interrogated if he/she chose to remain silent.
- 2. The right to counsel: A person may not be interrogated if he/she requests to have an attorney.
- 3. If a person invokes either the right to remain silent or the right to counsel at the time of or during interrogation, Miranda law requires that all interrogation must cease.

E. Recognize the types of Miranda waivers

- 1. Expressed
 - a. Answers yes or no to the question about going forward with questioning
- 2. Implied
 - a. Acknowledges understanding the advisements, and exhibits conduct indicating waiver of his/her rights (like answering questions and not requesting an attorney).
- 3. Conditional
 - a. Acknowledges understanding the advisements and is willing to go forward, but places a limitation/qualification on answering questions
- F. Recognize the exceptions to the Miranda rule
 - 1. Public Safety Exceptions
 - a. There is an exception to the Rule of Miranda when a person is in custody and about to be interrogated. It is known as the public safety or emergency rescue exception,
 - b. This exception is based on exigent circumstances.
 - c. No Miranda Warning is necessary, even though a person is in custody, if the officer who is about to ask incriminating questions (interrogation) is motivated by a concern for someone's safety.
 - d. The concern for safety can be for the victim, the defendant, some third person, the public at large, or the officer's own safety.

2. Dying Declaration

- a. Dying declarations are statements made by a dying person about the circumstances surrounding the person's impending death. The statement must be based on the speaker's personal knowledge and made under a sense of impending death. (Evidence Code Section 1242).
- b. Dying declarations concern the cause of, and circumstances surrounding, the death of the person making the statement (declarant). Statements by the declarant which pertain to other matters are not within the exception.

IV. LEARNING NEED

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

To develop admissible evidence while ensuring the constitutional rights of all individuals, peace officer must correctly follow standardized practices for conducting crime scene interviews and interrogations.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Differentiate between an interview and interrogation
 - 1. Interview
 - a. An interview is the process of gathering information from a person who has knowledge of the facts that an officer will need to conduct an investigation.
 - b. An interview frequently involves the process of questioning non-suspects such as victims, witnesses.
 - 2. Interrogation
 - a. An Interrogation is the process of questioning suspects. Questions or conduct by officers reasonably likely to elicit an incriminating response
- B. Identify the purpose of an interrogation
 - 1. An interrogation may be initiated to obtain an admission or confession.
 - 2. Interrogations may identify individuals involved in a crime or obtain information that could lead to the recovery of evidence or property.
 - 3. An interrogation may be used to corroborate the facts of the crime or establish a person's guilt.
- C. Differentiate between an admission and confession
 - 1. An admission acknowledges certain facts that tend to incriminate the individual, but fall short of a confession.
 - 2. A confession acknowledges the commission of all of the elements of a crime.
 - 3. A legally obtained confession is the most compelling evidence of a suspect's guilt.

- D. Identify the conditions in which a confession or admission may be inadmissible in court
 - 1. Admissions and confessions that are obtained while violating a suspect's constitutional protections and statutory requirements can be ruled inadmissible as evidence.
 - 2. If the admissions or confessions are the result of an illegal search and seizure, such as an improper entry, unreasonable detention, etc., the statements will not be admissible.
 - 3. Statements obtained during custodial interrogations which were carried out in violation of Miranda's requirements, such as without a complete advisement of rights, or without a valid waiver of rights may not be used as evidence in court.

SEARCH & SEIZURE

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

I. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must have a clear understanding of their authority, responsibility, and potential for liability areas of search and seizure law, as well as the protections provided by constitutional law, statutory law, a case law against unreasonable searches and seizures.

- A. Recognize how the exclusionary rule applies to a peace officer's collection of evidence.
 - 1. If a court finds a search or seizure is not reasonable and a person's Fourth Amendment rights have been violated by the government, all items seized during the search could be ruled inadmissible or excluded as evidence at trial.

- 2. The inadmissible or excluded evidence is often referred to as "The fruit of the poisonous tree".
- The exclusionary rule was created by the United States Supreme Court to encourage proper law enforcement conduct. Usually the evidence is excluded as a penalty for the illegality of the search and seizure.

II. LEARNING NEED

To search for and seize evidence legally, peace officers must know the rules and requirements for obtain and executing a search warrant.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- A. Recognize how probable cause serves as a basis for obtaining a search warrant
 - Before they can obtain a search warrant, peace officers must be able to provide a judge with specific facts that meet the Fourth Amendment's requirement of probable cause.
 - 2. In the search warrant context, probable cause to search means enough credible information to provide a fair probability that the object or person the peace officers seek will be found at the place they want to search.
 - 3. The U.S. Constitution states that "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized".
- B. Recognize the necessary conditions for securing an area pending issuance of a search warrant
 - Under very limited circumstances peace officers may secure a residence while in the process of obtaining a search warrant. In addition to probable cause to search, they also need exigencies, the belief based upon the circumstances of the incident or other information at hand, that the evidence will likely be destroyed or removed before the search warrant can be obtained.
 - 2. An area may be secured pending issuance of a search warrant if the suspect has been arrested inside the location.
 - 3. An area may be secured pending issuance of a search warrant if companions of the suspect may destroy items sought upon learning of the arrest.

- C. Identify the time limitations for serving a search warrant
 - 1. PC 1534 states that the search warrant shall be executed and returned within ten days.
 - 2. The ten-day time limit means that peace officers have 10 days within which to execute the warrant, beginning with the day after the warrant is issued and running until midnight of the 10th day, with no exceptions for weekends or holidays. If the 10th day falls on a weekend or holiday, then the peace officers are entitled to postpone returning the warrant until the next business day.
 - 3. If the 10-day period has expired, peace officers must either obtain a new warrant or resubmit the expired warrant so it may be reissued or revalidated.
- D. Recognize the elements for compliance with the knock and notice requirements when serving a search warrant
 - 1. Before entering a private dwelling to execute a search warrant, officers must comply with the requirements of knock and notice as set forth in PC 1531.
 - 2. Knock and notice simply means that before entering a dwelling to serve a search warrant, officers must give notice to persons inside through certain actions.
 - 3. To comply with the requirements of knock and notice, peace officers must:
 - a. Knock or otherwise announce their presence.
 - b. Identify themselves as peace officers.
 - c. State their purpose.
 - d. Demand entry.
 - e. Wait a reasonable amount of time.
 - f. If necessary, forcibly enter the premises.
 - 4. When executing a search warrant, there is a specific requirement that before forcing entry, peace officers must be refused admittance. Refusal may be based on:
 - a. A verbal statement

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- b. Individual conduct, or
- c. The passage of a reasonable amount of time
- E. Recognize the application of the Nexus Rule while conducting an authorized search
 - 1. Under the nexus rule, offices may seize items not listed in the warrant.
 - 2. Nexus means a reasonable connection or link between two or more items.
 - When the items are discovered while the officers are conducting a lawful search for the listed evidence and they have probable cause to believe the items are contraband, evidence of criminal behavior, or would otherwise aid in the apprehension or conviction of the criminal.

III. LEARNING NEED

When certain conditions are met, officers may lawfully search and seize evidence without a search warra evidence to be admissible at trial, officers must have a clear understanding of the legal requirements for warrantless searches.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize why a plain view seizure does not constitute a search
 - Peace officers do not have to blind themselves to what is in plain view if an item they see can be associated with a crime or criminal behavior, simply because they do not have a warrant.
 - 2. When an officer sees an item in plain view from a place the officer has a lawful right to be, no search or constitutional violation has taken place. The owner or possessor of the property has no reasonable expectation of privacy for items which are in plain view.
 - 3. Without an expectation of privacy, the owner or possessor has no Fourth Amendment protection.
- B. Recognize the legal requirements for seizure of items in plain view
 - 1. Peace officers must meet certain requirements before an item in plain view may be seized legally and used as evidence.
 - 2. Peace officers must have probable cause.
 - 3. Peace officers must have a lawful right to be in the location.
- 4. Peace officers must have lawful access to the item.

IV. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must be aware of the due process rights that protect against impermissible suggestiveness when conducting any procedure involving a subject's identification.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- A. Identify the importance of a peace officer's neutral role during an identification procedure
 - Because it is a violation of a defendant's constitutional right to due process to be convicted on the basis of an unduly suggestive identification process, peace officers must not suggest in any way to the victim or witness that a person to be observed during an identification process committed the crime. Indeed peace officers must be very careful to avoid any conduct before, during, or after the identification process which might be ruled suggestive.
- B. Identify officer actions before, during, and after an identification procedure to prevent impermissible law enforcement suggestiveness when conducting a:
 - 1. Field show-up
 - 2. Photographic spread
 - 3. Custodial lineup

V. REQUIRED TEST

A. POST- constructed Comprehensive Module II Test

- B. Describe the inherent risks to officer safety that are associated with conducting a vehicle pullover
 - 1. Traffic on the roadway
 - 2. Unknown threat level of the subjects
 - 3. Unknown identity of the subjects
 - 4. Possibility of not having immediate back up
- C. Demonstrate appropriate actions officers can take to maintain their own safety and the safety of others while conducting a vehicle pullover
 - 1. Develop a plan of action prior to initiating the pullover
 - 2. Request and use backup assistance when necessary
 - 3. Apply safe and sound tactics when initiating the pullover, approaching the vehicle and making contact with the vehicle occupants.
 - 4. Appropriately use communication/notification resources

II. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must understand the techniques for conducting tactically sound vehicle pullovers

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

 - 2. Using the offset position for the vehicle
 - 3. Use of spotlights during darkness
 - 4. Using appropriate emergency lighting
 - 5. Proper distance

- 5. At night use flashlight sparingly to avoid subjects tracking your light
- E. Distinguish between the advantages and disadvantages of a driver side approach, a passenger side approach and a non approach to a target vehicle
 - 1. Driver side advantages: most direct, direct contact with driver, allows observation of driver and easy observation of the VIN
 - 2. Driver side disadvantages: exposure to traffic, officer in kill zone, fewer escape options for officer
 - 3. Passenger side advantages: approach is out of traffic lanes, more opportunities to adjust position of approach, enhances view of rear seat
 - 4. Passenger side disadvantages: more difficult to notice signs of impairment, environment may prevent this approach
 - 5. Non-approach Advantages: If the driver exits immediately, the officer may choose to remain behind the cover/concealment of the patrol vehicle. May allow the officer to direct the driver out of the vehicle to the curb while the officer maintains a position of safety. Violator's action can be constantly monitored, especially hand movements. During the contact, the occupants remain in the officer's field of vision (directly of peripherally).
 - 6. Non-approach Disadvantages: Hinders the officer's ability to observe the interior of the vehicle. Exposes violators to hazards of passing traffic. Officer loses containment of occupants.
- F. Demonstrate appropriate positioning for patrol officers when making face to face contact with the driver of a target vehicle
 - 1. Upon initial contact officers should position themselves for the greatest safety and tactical advantage.
 - a. Officer should be behind the trailing edge of the driver side/passenger side front door (depending on approach used)

PHYSICAL CONDITIOINING

I. LEARNING NEED

The ability of the body to utilize oxygen depends upon the functional efficiency of the cardiovascular system, i.e., the heart, lungs and blood vessels. The largest amount of oxygen that a person can consume per minute is called maximal oxygen uptake. This maximal oxygen uptake is frequently referred to as aerobic capacity. Aerobic capacity is a functional measure of cardiovascular fitness. Regular vigorous exercise of an endurance quality can increase aerobic capacity by as much as 15 % to 25%; the precise amount of increase depends upon six factors:

A. Intensity

1. The heart rate level that the individual maintains while exercising.

B. Duration

1. The length of time that the individual performs the exercise at the training intensity.

C. Frequency

1. The number of conditioning sessions per week based on pre-training fitness status- the aerobic capacity of the individual at the beginning of the program.

D. Pre-training fitness status

1. The aerobic capacity of the individual at the beginning of the program.

E. Mode of exercise

1. The type of activity being performed.

F. Program length

1. The number of weeks/months/years that the individual continues in the conditioning program

G. P.T. Session Routine

1. General components:

a. Warm up

- i. The Standing Shoulder Stretch
 - 1. Feet shoulder width apart, hands stretched over head, right hand over left, bend at the waist to the right, stretching the left side. Then, left hand over right, bend at the waist to the left, stretching the right side.
- b. The Quad Stretch

i. Lying on left side, legs and left arm extended, right arm on front for support, right leg bent behind body, held with right hand stretching right quadriceps. Then reverse, right side, left leg.

c. Seated Toe Touch

d. Hamstring Stretch

i. Seated, right leg extended to the front, left leg flex with sole of foot placed alongside opposite knee, lean forward, stretching the right hamstring. Then left leg extended to the front, right flexed with sole of foot placed alongside the opposite knee, lean forward, stretching the left hamstring.

e. Sitting Toe Touch

i. Seated, legs extended, feet together Slowly bend trunk forward and reach arms to toes or beyond; do not rock back and forth.

f. Modified Seated Curl

- i. Seated, legs flexed, knees lateral, soles of feet placed together. Slowly bend trunk forward and grasp toes, flex trunk; do not "bob" up and down.
- g. Bent Leg Trunk Twist (Not recommended for persons with low back pain or recent back injury/surgery)
 - Seated, trunk upright, arms fully extended at shoulder level; legs extended with feet apart.
 Alternately twist trunk left and right rhythmically at moderate tempo; complete five repetitions each side or as prescribed.

h. Side Leg Raise

- i. Lying on left or right side, lower arm fully extended and upper arm placed in front of chest for support. Raise upper leg laterally and fully at moderate pace; complete five repetitions, or as prescribed, on each side.
- a. Straight Leg Trunk Twist (Not recommended for persons with low back pain or recent back injury/surgery)
 - Seated, trunk upright, arms fully extended at shoulder level; legs extended with feet apart.
 Alternately twist trunk left and right rhythmically at moderate tempo; complete five repetitions each side.
- Modified Back Stretcher (Not recommended for persons with low back pain or recent back injury/surgery)
 - Lying flat on back, legs extended together. Keeping back flat on the ground, slowly lift your head with both hands behind neck; hold this position for 10 seconds. Repeat exercise four times.
- k. The Back Stretcher (Not recommended for persons with low back pain or recent back injury/surgery)
 - i. Lying face up, supine; arms alongside trunk, legs extended, feet together. Raise and flex right and left leg alternately and fully while grasping flexed knee and tucking chin and chest to knee; repeat at moderate tempo, six repetitions each side, or as prescribed. (Decrease tempo or do statically if low back pain is experienced or present prior to exercise.)

ax. Modified Calf Stretcher

i. Standing, assume a modified push-up position, hands in front of the shoulder, both legs fully extended and both heels flat on the ground. (a) With hands on the ground, bend upwards at the waist, while maintaining right heel flat on ground bend left knee, hold for 10 seconds or as prescribed (pull or stretch should be felt in the calf muscle or heel cords). SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Effective date of outline: FEBRUARY 15, 2017

I. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must have a clear understanding of their authority, responsibility, and potential for liability in the areas of search and seizure law, as well as the protections provided by constitutional law, statutory law, and case law against unreasonable searches and seizures.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize constitutional protections guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment
 - 1. Constitutional protections
 - 2. Unreasonable searches
 - 3. Limitation on government's power
- B. Identify the concept of reasonable expectation of privacy
 - 1. Expectation of privacy can exist almost anytime and anyplace
 - a. Individuals have indicated that they personally (subjectively) expect privacy in the object or area
 - b. Their expectation is one which society is prepared to recognize as legitimate
 - 2. Subjective expectation of privacy
 - 3. Objective reasonableness
 - 4. Cartilage
- C. Recognize standing and how it applies to an expectation of privacy
 - 1. Ownership
- 2. Lawful possession
- 3 Authority, and/or
- 4 Control of the area searched or the property seized.
 - 2.
- D. Recognize probable cause to search and its link between Fourth Amendment protections and search and seizure law

1. Definition:

Probable cause to search an area or object means having enough facts or information to provide a fair probability, or a substantial chance, that the item sought is located in the place to be searched.

- Peace officers must demonstrate that probable cause exists to search a specific place for specific property or contraband which will be used as evidence. Even though the court will consider the totality of the circumstances, to meet the Fourth Amendment requirement, officers must have specific facts which can be articulated in court or in a sworn statement (affidavit).
- 3. To better understand the Fourth Amendment, peace officers need to understand the following terms.

A search occurs when an expectation of privacy that society is prepared to consider reasonable is infringed upon by the government.

A seizure of property occurs when there is some meaningful interference with an individual's possessory interest in that property by the government. A seizure of a person occurs when:

- a peace officer physically applies force, or
- a person voluntarily submits to a peace officer's authority.

II. LEARNING NEED

When certain conditions are met, officers may lawfully search and seize evidence without a search warrant. For evidence to be admissible at trial, officers must have a clear understanding of the legal requirements for warrantless searches.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- A. Recognize the conditions and circumstances where warrantless searches and seizures are considered reasonable and legal
 - 1. Fourth Amendment protection:
 - a. The first clause of the Fourth Amendment states people have a right to be protected from unreasonable searches and seizures by government agents.
 - b. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.
 - 2. In deciding whether a warrantless search or seizure was legal, courts will always consider the totality of the circumstances. However, peace officers must always have specific facts to demonstrate the search or seizure fell within one of the exceptions to the warrant requirement

- a. cursory/frisk/pat down
- b. consent searches
- c. searches pursuant to exigent circumstances
- d. searches incident to custodial arrest, and probation/parole searches.
- B. Recognize the scope and necessary conditions for conducting the following types of warrantless searches:
 - 1. Cursory/frisks/pat searches
 - 2. Consent searches
 - 3. Searches pursuant to exigent circumstances
- 4. Searches incident to arrest
- 5. Probation/parole searches

III. LEARNING NEED

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

The Fourth Amendment's protection against unreasonable searches and seizures extends to a person's vehicle and property inside the vehicle. However, the courts have created several exceptions to the Fourth Amendment's warrant requirement because of the potential mobility of a motor vehicle.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize the scope and necessary conditions for conducting the following types of motor vehicle searches:
 - 1. Probable cause searches
 - 2. Seizures of items in plain view
 - 3. Protective searches
- 4. Consent searches
- 5. Searches incident to custodial arrest,
 - 6. Instrumentality searches
 - B. Recognize the scope and necessary conditions for conducting a vehicle inventory
 - 1. The vehicle must be in the lawful custody of law enforcement before the inventory can take place.
 - 2. The inventory must be conducted pursuant to standardized agency policy or regulations
 - 3.

IV. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must recognize when a search or the seizure of evidence involves intrusion into a subject's body Special care must be taken to balance the subject's reasonable expectation of privacy under the Fourth Amendment against the government's need to collect evidence.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- A. Recognize the legal framework establishing a peace officer's authority to seize physical evidence from a subject's body:
 - 1. With a warrant
- Forth Amendment

| b. | Fifth Amendment |
|----|-----------------|
| ο. | |

- 2. Without a warrant
 - a. probable cause to arrest,

PRESENTATION OF EVIDENCE

Effective date of outline: AUGUST 1, 2017

I. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must know the rules of evidence as they pertain to relevancy, types of evidence, authentication and chain of custody

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize relevance as it pertains to the admissibility of evidence
 - 1. Evidence that is admissible in court is subject to a set of rules designed to protect jurors from being misled
 - 2. To protect constitutional rights
 - 3. To ensure a speedy trail

- B. Identify four types of evidence
 - 1. Testimonial
 - 2. Real
 - 3. Demonstrative
 - 4. Circumstantial
- C. Recognize the process of authentication of evidence
 - 1. All real and demonstrated evidence must be authenticated. That is, it must be shown that it is what the officer claims it to be.
 - 2. Authentication is the act of establishing that claims made about the item of evidence are true.
- D. Understand what constitutes the legal chain of custody for evidence
 - 1. When evidence is collected in connection to a crime, a chain of custody of that evidence must be established and maintained throughout the custody of the evidence
 - 2. The chain of custody is a method of authentication. T requires every step in the process of handling of the evidence be accounted for. By every person since its recognition and collection, explain what they have done with it
 - 3. Each person handling the evidence is a link in the chain of custody. Each link in the chain of custody must be documented.

II. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must know the requirements and exceptions for the admissibility of evidence.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Recognize a peace officer's role and responsibilities in ensuring the admissibility of evidence:

INVESTIGATIVE REPORT WRITING

Effective date of outline: AUGUST 1, 2017

I. LEARNING NEED

A peace officer's ability to clearly document the facts and activities of an investigation not only reflects on the officer's own professionalism, but also on the ability of the justice system to prosecute the criminal case.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Explain the legal basis for requiring investigative reports
 - An investigative report is a written document prepared by a peace officer that records in detail the officer's observations and actions as they relate to a specific event or incident.
 - 2. Each investigative report is a legal document that becomes a permanent written record of that event or incident.

- 3. Judicial process:
 - a. In order to ensure due process, officers, prosecutors, judges, etc., must have sufficient information and evidence to initiate or continue the judicial process and successfully prosecute or exonerate a suspect.

II. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must recognize that the information gathered during their initial investigation in the field will become the foundation for their investigative reports.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Discuss the importance of taking notes in preparation for writing reports
 - 1. Field notes are more reliable than an officer's memory
 - 2. Field notes are the primary source of information for the investigative report
 - 3. Detailed field notes reduce the need to recontact the involved parties at a later time
- B. Apply appropriate actions for taking notes during a field interview
 - 1. Listen attentively

- 2. Take notes and ask questions
- 3. Verify information

III. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must recognize in order for an investigative report to be of use in the judicial process, the report must be well organized, and include facts needed to establish that a crime has been committed and all actions taken by officers were appropriate.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Summarize the primary questions that must be answered by an investigative report
 - 1. Who
 - 2. What
 - 3. When
- B. Identify the fundamental content elements in investigative reports, including:
 - 1. Initial information
 - 2. Identification of the crime
 - 3. Identification of involved parties
 - 4. Victim/witness statements
 - Crime scene specifics
- 6. Property information
- 7. Officer actions

IV. LEARNING NEED

Peace officers must recognize that an effective report must exhibit the writer's command of the language and be relatively free of errors in sentence structure, grammar, and other writing mechanics.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- A. Apply guidelines for recommended grammar used in investigative reports, including use of:
 - 1. Proper nouns
 - 2. First person pronouns
 - 3. Third person pronouns
- 4. Past tense

- B. Organize information within a paragraph for clarity and proper emphasis
 - 1. Effective investigative reports must present all relevant information simply, or logically. They must be written in plain English in order to be useful for the reader.
 - 2. Paragraphs are the structural units for grouping information. No matter which format is used for the investigative report (narrative or category); all paragraphs within the report must be clear and easy to understand.
 - 3. When writing an investigative report, the first sentence (lead-in sentence) of each paragraph should clearly state the primary topic or subject of the paragraph. The sentences that follow within the paragraph should present facts, ideas, reasons, or examples that are directly related to that primary topic.
- C. Select language that will clearly convey information to the reader of the investigative report
 - 1. Officers who are writing investigative reports should select simple, common, concrete language whenever possible. The use of simple language can help keep reports concise and brief, addressing relevant information quickly and clearly.
 - 2. Words that are used to make an investigative report sound eloquent or scholarly may actually serve to make the report wordy, vague and less effective. Inflated language is never appropriate and officers should resist the temptation to impress their readers.
 - 3. Effective investigative reports must present all relevant information simply, or logically. They must be written in plain English in order to be useful for the reader.
- D. Distinguish between commonly used words that sound alike but have different meanings
 - 1. Officers should take care to use the correct word for what they are trying to say when writing investigative reports.
 - 2. There are a number of frequently used words that sound alike but have completely different spellings and meanings.

III. LEARNING NEED

All peace officers who operate law enforcement emergency vehicles must recognize that even though the purpose of pursuit driving is the apprehension of a suspect who is using a vehicle to flee, the vehicle pursuit is never more important than the safety of peace officers and the public.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Printed: 6/4/2025 (WEB)

- A. Discuss the requirements of Penal Code Section 13519.8
 - 1. When to initiate a pursuit

Vehicle Code Section 17004.7 requires every agency to have a written pursuit policy. It gives statutory immunity to government entities for injury or damage caused by a fleeing suspect.

2. Agency policy

a. Agency Policies may differ, but all policies will include certain provisions as required by Penal Code Section 13519.8. Each officer is responsible for knowing their agency's pursuit policy. Each policy must include:

- b. If the threat to public safety is greater than the need for apprehending the suspect, then the pursuit should not be initiated or it should be terminated.
