DIRECTIVE:

FIELD PERSONNEL

All patrol personnel shall enter the serial number or station identifier of the following equipment into Deputy Daily Work Sheet (DDWS) under "Specialized Equipment." If assigned a patrol rifle, it shall be the first entry. All equipment shall be listed according the following examples:

- Patrol Rifle - R/(space) (the last four digits of the serial number)
Example: "R/ 1234"
- Shotgun - SG (station identifier located on the slide)
Example: "SG5"
- Stunbag Shotgun - SB (last four digits of the serial number located on the stock)

Carson Station Unit Orders : 15-04 LOGGING SPECIAL EQUIPMENT IN DDWS AND DAILY
ACCOUNTABILITY OF PATROL EQUIPMENT

Example: "SB1234"

- TASER - TZ (last four digits of the serial number)

Example: "TZ1234"

- BlueCheck - Station identifier located on the front of the device

Example: "BC069"

Some weapons and equipment have been assigned to a team, an area, or an individual, however, any weapons and/or equipment assigned to the armory shall be returned to the armory at the end of shift. Armory weapons or equipment shall not be retained by personnel (in their lockers, warbags, or elsewhere) beyond the end of their shift.

EARLY MORNING WATCH SERGEANT

The EM Watch Sergeant will print a copy of the unit roster. He/she will check off all shotguns, stunbag shotguns, and TASERs logged into the field units' DDWS on the Armory Reconciliation Sheet. The Watch Sergeant will then reconcile the shotgun closet and the armory, checking off all shotguns, stunbag shotguns, and TASERs present. Once this task is complete, he/she will sign and date the armory reconciliation sheet and turn it into the watch commander.

Every effort shall be made to successfully reconcile the armory before the end of shift. In the event the sheet cannot be resolved, the watch sergeant and watch commander of the next shift will be notified and they will continue the efforts to locate any missing weapons. The armory lieutenant and sergeant shall be notified of any discrepancy. The Unit Commander shall be updated on the progress in resolving the discrepancy.
