

Psychological Services Bureau - Unit Orders

• Unit Order #19-0001 HANDLING SWORN EMPLOYEE FIREARMS

Effective Date: June 24, 2019

BACKGROUND:

During the course of operations, PSB psychological staff has, on rare occasions, found it necessary to relieve a sworn Department member of a firearm due to the need for an urgent/emergent voluntary hospitalization, due to the risk of self-harm. Such events have typically happened when the sworn Department member brought a firearm with them to an intake or counseling session that resulted in a hospitalization without there having been the opportunity for the sworn employee to have advance notice of the voluntary hospitalization plan (immediate hospitalization). This unit order details as specifically as possible the procedures that should be followed when such an event occurs.

PROCEDURE:

On the rare occasion that a sworn client requires a voluntary psychological hospitalization due to risk of self-harm, on an emergency basis directly from a PSB office, and has a firearm in his/her possession, including in a vehicle, and there is no other alternative but to secure that firearm in the PSB safe in the vault room at the Wilshire office, that firearm may only be secured by a sworn member of the PSB staff. Non-sworn members may not handle, render safe, or secure that firearm. As the Bureau has only two sworn members, one of them must be contacted to handle the surrendering of the firearm. No plan to secure a sworn member's firearm shall be initiated without prior notification to, and consultation with a PSB psychologist/manager.

If such a situation occurs, and a sworn member of the Bureau is not available, another means of securing the client's firearm, if necessary, will be determined on a case by case basis with consultation from a PSB supervisor. Every effort must be made to ensure the client's safety first, and their confidentiality, to the extent that such is possible.

At the time PSB takes possession of the firearm, a firearms receipt shall be completely filled out, witnessed, and given to the sworn employee/client. The client must also sign the receipt. The treating/responding psychologist is responsible for overseeing the immediate scanning of that receipt into the client's eHR, and shall provide appropriate documentation in the intake or progress note indicating the date and time PSB took possession of the firearm and the reason for doing so. Once the assessing psychologist determines it is safe to return the firearm to the sworn member, it is to be returned to the sworn employee by a sworn PSB staff member, a return receipt shall be witnessed, issued to and signed by the client. The treating psychologist is responsible for overseeing the immediate scanning of the return receipt into the client's eHR and shall provide appropriate documentation in the progress note indicating the date and time PSB returned the firearm to the client, logistics, the UOA, or other authorized recipient, and the reason for relinquishing the firearm at that time.

Every effort should be made, as may be practicable, to limit the amount of time that any sworn member's firearm remains in PSB's safe. The treating psychologist shall keep their supervisor frequently updated as to the status of the client and the plan to return/relinquish the firearm to the client or other authorized recipient.

PSB managers/supervisors shall take appropriate action to address all violations or deficiencies in following this order, including non-disciplinary corrective action for the involved employee, and/or referring the incident for disciplinary action. PSB managers/supervisors are responsible for tracking violations or deficiencies and the corrective action taken for each incident.

With specific regard to the CAL, this form may only be kept "open or pending" beyond the timeframe noted above with supervisor approval, based on the nature and circumstances of the event (i.e., roll out, outreach, other urgent or emergent consultation, etc.)

Business relationships shall never be manipulated or exploited for personal gain.

If there is any violation of the above standard and expectations, the employee will be orally counseled. The second violation will result in progressive discipline, unless the severity of the violation circumstance requires a higher level disciplinary action. If at any time, an employee is not clearly accountable and does not take prompt corrective actions for performance or conduct issues, an automatic Performance Log Entry will be generated, at minimum, regardless of whether a prior violation of Unit Order #19-0003 has occurred. The PLE may be noted in the employee's annual performance evaluation.

• Unit Order #19-0004 CHAIN OF COMMAND

Effective Date: September 6, 2019

PURPOSE OF ORDER:

The purpose of this order is to make it explicit that the Department operates using a chain-of-command model.

SCOPE OF ORDER:

This order applies to all personnel assigned to Psychological Services Bureau (PSB).

ORDER:

All PSB staff are accountable to all managers at the Bureau. However, the chain-of-command shall be respected and adhered to at all times, regardless of sworn or civilian status. All staff have a designated immediate supervisor and shall attempt to communicate with their immediate supervisor first on business matters. The few exceptions where the immediate supervisor is not initially contacted includes -1-on-call activations where there is a pre-designated back-up on-call supervisors schedule to follow; -2-any emergency situations or other time-sensitive matters that require prompt notification and the immediate supervisor is unavailable for consultation, and/or direction; -3-when the immediate supervisor is on rdo, sick, or on vacation; and -4-when filing an equity or workplace violence allegation against a manager(s).

At any time when the chain-of-command will be violated, the immediate supervisor shall be notified in-advance with an explanation by the employee. If advance notice is not possible, clear communication of the reason shall be given in writing to the immediate supervisor as soon as possible. In the rare case that an employee bypasses the chain-of-command completely at PSB and conducts business and/or makes notifications directly to Executive and other Division level executives, the employee shall email "PSB Management" promptly to inform the managers with a detailed rationale for violating policy and procedure. POE or workplace violence allegations are exceptions to this rule.

If there is any violation of the above standard operating procedure, the employee will be orally counseled. The second violation will result in progressive discipline, unless the severity of the violation circumstance indicates that progressive discipline shall be bypassed. If at any time, an employee is not clearly accountable and does not take prompt corrective actions for performance or conduct issues, an automatic Performance Log Entry will be generated, at minimum, regardless of whether a prior violation of Unit Order #19-0004 has occurred and will be noted in the employee's annual performance evaluation.

If at any time, an employee is not clearly accountable and does not take prompt corrective actions for performance or conduct issues, an automatic Performance Log Entry will be generated, at minimum, regardless of whether a prior violation of Unit Order #19-0005 has occurred and will be noted in the employee's annual performance evaluation.

SCOPE OF ORDER:

This order applies to all personnel assigned to Psychological Services Bureau (PSB).

ORDER:

If a PSB employee is going to arrive late to work on a regularly scheduled work day(s), he/she shall notify his/her immediate supervisor (or the next appropriate supervisor if the immediate supervisor is unavailable) as early as possible to avoid or minimize preventable operational disruption (e.g., late cancellation or reassignment of scheduled clients). Every effort must be made by employees to be punctual and minimize unanticipated absences in order to minimize the impact on the Bureau's operations.

In all cases of unexpectedly being late to work or calling out for illness, injury, or personal emergencies, prompt notification must be given with an explanation. The supervisor must confirm receipt of the unanticipated absence or unexpected late arrival. If supervisor confirmation is not received, it remains the employee's responsibility to ensure the request/notification is received promptly by the supervisor in order for the supervisor to properly address any operational delays or coverage issues. Psychologists are responsible for advising his/her immediate supervisor regarding any clinical concerns relating to clients being cancelled or any other pending business matters that need to be handled while the employee is out of the office (for short or extended periods of time). Upon the psychologist's return, he/she must review all clients and/or meetings that were cancelled and follow-up to make attempts to reschedule these appointments. All absences shall occur with proper leave and authorization.

Repeated problems in following the above standard procedures will result in progressive discipline. If at any time, an employee is not clearly accountable for his/her actions and does not promptly take the necessary corrective actions, an automatic Performance Log Entry will be generated, at minimum, regardless of whether a prior violation of Unit Order #19-0006 has occurred during the past evaluation rating period. At no time shall any employee exceed working 24 hours/week in their outside employment. At no time shall any employee request approval for outside employment which would require an adjustment of the standard scheduled work hours. PSB employees shall treat any approved outside employment as a secondary assignment, always prioritizing the duties and responsibilities of their primary employment at LASD-PSB. If performance issues are reasonably suspected to arise from the demands of the outside employment from the perspective of management, the Director will not approve further outside employment for the employee unless prompt corrections are made and maintained for three months in his/her performance and and/or conduct at PSB.

In these types of situations, a staff psychologist can be directed by a manager to respond on any day, at any time, to any location in the surrounding areas to provide PSB services. It is the responsibility of all psychologist and deputy personnel to ensure that their contact numbers are accurate and current on any updated phone rosters released by PSB. PSB managers should be promptly notified of any corrections needed.

If there is any violation of the above standard operating procedure, the degree of the violation will be reviewed by management to determine if progressive discipline will be offered. If at any time, an employee is not clearly being accountable for any performance and/or conduct issue(s) which includes immediate corrective action, then an automatic Performance Log Entry will be generated, at minimum, regardless of whether a prior violation of Unit Order #008 has occurred and will be noted in the employee's annual performance evaluation.

It is also important that any newer employee who believes they are being hazed report it immediately to a manager as well, regardless of the normal reservations and desire to minimize the problem.
