5-08/100.70 - Investigative Searches

Probe images shall only be used from legally obtained sources.

Facial reviewers will determine if probe images are suitable for a facial recognition search and if all requirements are met, may conduct a facial recognition search.

Investigative searches shall only be conducted by trained facial reviewers. Reviewers are qualified to assess image quality, determine if suitable for facial recognition searches, and to perform one-to-many and one-to-one facial image comparisons.
