6-19/130.00 Additional Writs of Attachment

Several writs in the same form may be issued simultaneously or from time to time upon the same undertaking, whether or not any writ previously issued has been returned. After the return of the writ of attachment, or upon the filing by the plaintiff of an affidavit setting forth the loss of the writ of attachment, the clerk, upon demand of the plaintiff at any time before judgment, may issue an alias writ which shall be in the same form as the original without requirement of a new undertaking. The date of issuance of a writ of attachment shall be deemed to be the date the writ is first issued. (CCP 482.090)
